1	Wow, there is so much to say about Jame's Stratton... The German department is very lucky to have this T.A.! He kept the class interesting, always presenting creative activities, and explains topics thoroughly. He puts a lot of time in effort into these classes and I appreciate everything he has done. This was a tough class (bad mix of students), but he has tried really hard to get everyone to interact and to participate. Even though this class as been a bit impossible, he still comes in everyday enthusiastic and ready to try again. James often has creative activities for the class. One in particular, he brought a ball in that was all marked up in phrases and vocabulary. The concept was to pass the ball from one another and whatever faced you when you caught the ball you answered or used the word in a phrase. He also brings white boards for practice so everyone can participate and can get a better idea where each of us are in the current topic. This is one of my favorites, because he comes around and checks all of the boards and if it is incorrect he helps us through it rather moving on. I know he plans to become a professor and I can honestly say he is definitely cut out for it.
2	James Stratton is the best language teacher I've had. I think that I finally have learned grammar that I've been failing to grasp for 5 years. This class is an amazing course and Professor Stratton made it so much better. his lax classroom environment and engaging teaching methods work to his advantage in a big way. Very good
3	I've taken three semesters of German at Purdue and James was by the far the best instructor I had. I didn't feel like I was drowning in German homework, all of the assignments given actually helped improve my understanding of whatever topic was being taught. Quia was manageable and we were always given enough time to get it done, so it never felt rushed. German wasn't forced down our throats, that is, there was a very appropriate mix of English and German used in class where I was able to comprehend a grammar lesson and not stare at the board/lecture confused with what was going on. I've sat in previous German classes while we spend the entire time going around the room over the homework assignments where I literally got nothing out of, James used interactive activities that were enjoyable and made it so I did not dread going to class every day because I knew I would actually have the opportunity to learn something as opposed to just going over assignment after assignment. Grading was very fair and mistakes in writing and grammar were pointed out clearly and I was able to understand the mistakes I made. Quiz reviews were always nice and I felt, for the most part, well prepared for all upcoming quizzes and tests. The class was structured well and very organized-I finally enjoyed having to take a foreign language.
4	He was a good teacher that made sure people in the class understood the activity and explained the reason the words changed from German to english. Like k turned to the ch sound which helps when thinking of the word Kinn as chin.

Q24 - Make a suggestion(s) for improving the course (a criticism alone is not helpful; tell your instructor how you would fix any problem).

3	Maybe more homework assignments or pop quizzes? Something other than Quia homework (more from the book or somewhere else).
4	I can't think of many things to critique on. I think that what was mentioned in class about how explaining vocab is better than just talking in German all the time. i think that explaining should be focused on more
